CHARGED WITH FALSE PRETENSE

Chief Shealer Arrests Emmitsburg Man Charged with Trading Horse which he Did not Own. Placed in County Jail.

Harry Bowman, of Emmitsburg, was arrested in this place on Monday afternoon by Chief of Police Shealer charged with obtaining a horse under false pretenses. The arrest followed a horse trade with John Fagan of the Globe Hotel.

Bowman who is about twenty-five years of age had driven a party here from Emmitsburg in a team of the McCarron livery, of that place. After they arrived in Gettysburg he offered to trade with Mr. Fagan and the deal was consummated. It is said that each party valued his horse at $30.00.

The party who accompanied Bowman here became suspicious and said that he believed Bowman was trading a horse which did not belong to him. Telephone communication was established with the Emmitsburg livery and instructions were given Chief Shealer to hold the man. Later in the evening parties from the Maryland town came over and got the horse while Mr. Fagan had his animal returned.

Bowman was placed in the county jail by Chief Shealer. He will likely be given a hearing.

BARLOW

Barlow, March 28—At the services at Mt. Joy on Sunday morning, Miss Helen Beegle, secretary of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, made a most excellent address on the rapid growth of the society and the great work that it has accomplished in the past and in accomplishing at the present. After the services a society was organized at Mt. Joy.

The Mt. Joy Sunday School was reorganized on Sunday and the following officers were elected: superintendent, John W. Benner; assistant superintendent, John W. Black; secretary, J. Elmer Spangler; treasurer, O. B. Sherratt; librarians, Gertrude Spangler and Clarence C. Smith; organist, Emma Maring.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foulk and daughter, Golda, visited George Conover and family on Sunday afternoon.

Services at Mt. Joy next Sunday at 2.00 p. m.; Sunday School at 1.00. On account of the inclemency of the weather last Sunday evening, the Foreign Mission service will be rescheduled next Sunday evening.

CHILD NEAR DEATH

Carl, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Pius Becker, of Hanover, made a narrow escape from death Saturday. Mr. Becker moved that day from Conewago Township Adams County to a house which had been vacated by a family who, it is said, left a bottle containing carbolic acid in the garden. The child found the bottle, and drank some of the liquid. The parent observed the child's condition and hastily telephoned for Dr. H. M. Allman. The child's mouth and throat were badly burned by the acid, but from present indications, the doctor is of the opinion that no serious result will follow.

LARGEST WOMAN IN COUNTY DEAD

Mrs. Ida Milberry, Resident of Gettysburg for the Past Two Years, is Buried in the Colored Cemetery.

The funeral of the largest person ever buried in Adams County took place on Monday in Gettysburg when the body of Mrs. Ida Milberry, colored, was interred in the Colored Cemetery at this place. Mrs. Milberry's weight was almost five hundred pounds.

It was with difficulty that the casket was taken from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nellie Anderson, without removing a portion of the door frame and eight pall bearers were necessary to carry the coffin.

Mrs. Milberry died on Sunday at the home of her daughter with whom she had been making her home for the past two years. Prior to that time she was a resident of Maryland. She was about 55 years of age and droopy was the cause of her death.

SCOUTS TO WATCH TRAMPS

The Gettysburg Troop of Boy Scouts are much interested in the announcement that Daniel C. Beard, National Scout Commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, has devised a means by which the boys throughout the country can make a systematic war upon yegg-men and hoboes who molest housewives and rob homes.

He is doing this by teaching the boys the secret signs of the yegg fraternity, so that the boys may know them and tell what the mystical marks on fences, houses and other buildings mean. By making the secrets of the tramps common knowledge, Beard hopes to destroy the communication between the tramps and thus prevent them from doing so much harm.

As Beard has learned these signs and can decipher them, he has arranged to teach them to the boys, and it is probable that in the new Manual of the Boy Scouts of America, which will soon reach Gettysburg Scouts, he will have several pages devoted to these symbols and their meanings. If the boys learn them they can read the messages of the hoboes along the public highways. If the signs are dangerous to people the boys can rub them off and warn the police.

All this means that the secrecy of the hoboes will be destroyed, thanks to Beard and the energy of the Boy Scouts of America. It means that if the hoboes wish to continue their symbiotic communication, they must work out new signs and this would take years.

Announcement is made definitely by the Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America that the national organization this year will not undertake the arrangement of a camp for the boys.

The plan of a national encampment in view of the youth of the scouts and of many other circumstances was not deemed wise. The idea, however, is to have the local organizations in different states hold encampments and if possible to have different cities and towns in one state hold their camps in the same place. It is thought also such an arrangement will enable the boys to have more fun.

SEVERE STORM

A severe wind, rain and hail storm passed over Gettysburg and the county Monday afternoon. Only minor damage was done here but in neighboring counties it was more severe. In York County trees were uprooted, telegraph poles torn down and buildings unrooted.

A barn on the farm of John Ness, north of York, was picked up by the wind and carried a distance of 150 feet, being thrown against the power transmission wire of the York Haven Company. The wire was torn down, crippling York's trolley and electric light system.

A mile south of York on the farm of John Hiltebrecht, a stone barn was demolished, it being knocked to the ground like so much paper.

WRECKAGE AND DEATH IN STORM

Devastation Wrought by Gale
Near Philadelphia.

ONE WORKMAN KILLED

Railroad Station Demolished, Signal Tower Wrecked and Trains to New York Held Up.

Philadelphia, March 28.—High wind incidental to a series of thunderstorms which struck the country between New York and Philadelphia overturned a station at Tacony, twelve miles from Philadelphia; upset a railroad shed at Wissinoming and shoved the station at Tullytown out upon the Pennsylvania railroad tracks.

The road had to discontinue selling tickets from New York to Philadelphia, and trains for the west and the south had to go around the obstructed line, either by the Amboy division or the Trenton cut-off or else wait until the railroad's workers were able to clear the tracks. Tickets to points beyond Philadelphia were sold subject to delay.

The Pennsylvania railroad wasn't able to tell surely whether any lives had been lost or not. Its wires were down most of the way from Trenton to Philadelphia. It was said, however, by a representative of the road that one man had been reported dead in the wreck of the station at Tacony.

Thirty workmen who were standing at the Pennsylvania railroad station at Tacony, waiting for the southbound train, were swept from their feet and an instant later the station building was torn from its foundations and crushed into a mass of wreckage. One man met instant death by being buried beneath the wreckage.

A short distance down the track a signal tower was snapped from its concrete foundation and carried some distance.

A wrecking train which is stationed at Tacony was completely pocketed by the storm. One of its cars was blown from the tracks and telegraph poles were thrown across the rails before and behind it. Freight cars standing upon sidings were thrown upon the roadbed. A thousand men were sent out from Philadelphia and set to work on the wreckage.

Three trains, leaving Philadelphia at about the time the thunderstorm broke, came up behind the wreckage and had to back to Frankford, and then proceeded over the Delaware river branch. Following trains were detoured over the same route, pending the rehabilitation of the line.

WANTS TO BE WITH MOTHER

Music Teacher Used Rusty Pistol In Suicide Attempt.

Boonton, N. J., March 28.—Miss Ada Simon is lying at her home in a critical condition, with two self-inflicted wounds.

Both bullets just missed the heart. She refused to allow physicians to probe for the bullets, saying that she wanted to die and be with her mother.

Miss Simon, a music teacher, lived for many years with her mother. The mother died four months ago, and since then Miss Simon had been melancholy. She often said she hoped to be with her mother on her next birthday, which comes early in April.

The pistol with which she shot herself had been loaded for a long time and was rusty. Miss Simon said she had to pull the trigger several times before she could discharge it. It is feared that blood poisoning may cause her death.

MAN MAKES GHASTLY FIND

Geologist Discovers Suit Case Containing Two Legs on River Bank.

Washington, March 28.—A suit case containing the two lower limbs of a human body was found on the Virginia shore of the Potomac river, about fifteen miles from this city.

The discovery was made by Frank B. Landy, of the United States geological survey, while strolling along the river bank. The suit case had been partially concealed among some bushes.

An investigation by the Fairfax county authorities thus far has revealed no clue. The limbs were those of a white person.

Burns With Her Three Children.
Harrisburg, Ky., March 28.—In the destruction of the home of J. T. Veach by flames, four miles from here, Mrs. J. M. Bridges and her three children burned to death. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Veach, and their three children escaped with slight burns.

ITALIAN MEETING BREAKS UP IN ROW

First Congress in This Country Marked by Disorder.

SESSION HAD TO ADJOURN

Disputes and Physical Encounters Marred Opening and Police Were Called to Preserve Order.

Philadelphia, March 28.—High wind scenes of noisy disorder and angry disputes and while all the delegates were on their feet, the opening session of the first congress of Italians in the United States was adjourned before the program in Horticultural hall was finished.

Police interference was necessary in the proceedings when two delegates got into a dispute, and, jumping to their feet, sprang at each other's throats. They were throttling each other when finally separated by the mayor's detective, William H. McFadden, who ran to them from his place on the stage.

McFadden telephoned to the city hall for a detail of plain clothes men, who quickly put in an appearance. But before their arrival the two disputants broke out afresh. Both rose and again made at each other amid a repetition of hisses and cries of "Order!" from the other delegates. A policeman appeared from the rear and tried to make the two men sit down, and after considerable confusion they were quieted.

Mayor Reburn, who had welcomed the delegates, was seated on the stage when these disturbances occurred. McFadden was standing near him and a distinguished body of Italians were seated nearby, including the Marquis Negrotto, who had brought greetings to the congress in the name of the king of Italy. The Italian ambassador, the Marquis Di Bugnara, who is regarded as one of the greatest orators in Italy, had just announced that he brought greetings from the Italian National Institute of Rome.

"From Rome," he said in Italian, "where today the fiftieth anniversary of the proclamation of Italy's unity and freedom is being celebrated."

Hisses Greet Speaker.

The rest of the sentence was lost on most of the audience. Hisses and cries of "Order!" and "Silence!" arose on the air from the north side a little more than half way down the hall. The delegates sitting there had risen. Two men were seen standing and disputing about regardless of the disapproval of their action by most of those present.

One of the disputants made a remark that was inaudible from the stage. An instant later they clinched and one tried to force the other to his seat. It was at this juncture that the mayor's secretary interfered.

The next disturbance, one which brought the meeting to a sudden adjournment in the midst of a scene of turbulence, occurred while Dr. M. Mazza, chairman, was speaking. In closing his somewhat lengthy remarks, Dr. Mazza said: "I now declare the first congress of Italians in the United States opened."

The instant Dr. Mazza declared the congress opened, Edmondo Rossini, a delegate of the Italian Socialist Federation of New York, jumped to his feet and demanded to be heard. Dr. Rossini, with his right hand raised high, insisted on his right to be heard.

Amid hisses and shouts of protest, he cried out to the presiding officer a motion that the congress send a salute to all Italian workmen in Philadelphia and throughout the United States.

The noise and confusion increased as the New York Socialist stood his ground and refused to sit down. Amid shouts and hisses and the greatest confusion, Dr. Mazza declared the session adjourned.

MINER WITH TITLE?

Man Killed May Have Been Salisbury's Nephew.

Hazel Green, Wis., March 28.—It has developed that Charles Salisbury, the workman killed in the Mills mine here, was not only an English nobleman, but was the nephew of the late Lord Salisbury.

The man's death is a mystery to a large extent. He was found at the bottom of the 200-foot shaft with every bone broken. He had been employed at the mine for only about three weeks, as a blacksmith and machinist, and as he had indulged freely in liquor before going to the mine it is supposed that he stumbled and fell into the pit.

Papers indicated his relationship to the British nobleman. Relations were communicated with and the body was sent to his old home in England for burial.

Kills Himself With Gas.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 28.—Mrs. Elva Harvey, the eighteen-year-old wife of a railroad man residing in this city, was found in bed with the gas jet fully turned on. Mrs. Harvey put her baby to bed, placing candy and pretzels in the crib beside the child, and then, going to another room, placed rugs at the bottom of the doors and turned on the gas.

DUVEENS CONFESS GUILT

Art Importers Are Fined $10,000 Each For Customs Fraud.

New York, March 28.—Louis J. Duven, and Joseph Duven, members of the art importing firm of Duven Brothers, pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy to defraud the federal government by making undervalueations in imports of art objects.

Judge Martin, of the United States circuit court, fined the importers $10,000 each, the maximum fine, which was paid.

United States District Attorney Wise and counsel for the Duveens, it was stated later, have reached a compromise agreement for the settlement of the government's civil suit for $5,000,000 against the firm of Duven Brothers.

According to the reported terms of the settlement, the Duveens will deposit $1,200,000 with the United States treasurer in full discharge of all claims against the firm for duties alleged to have been unpaid in importation of objects of art.

SEES FIRST TRAIN

Aged Trapper Also Learns to Use the Telephone.

Kremling, Colo., March 28.—For the first time since 1865 William E. Stanley, a veteran trapper of the Sheepherd country, saw a railroad train on Monday and talked over a telephone for the first time.

Stanley was discharged from the quartermaster's department of the United States army in 1865 in Sand Creek, near Denver. He purchased a supply of provisions and went into the mountains. He has never been within sight of a railroad since that time.

COUPLE BOUND AND GAGGED BY ROBBERS

Ransacked House and Made Wife Sign Check.

Asbury Park, N. J., March 28.—William Anderson was called to the door of his Allenhurst cottage by a knock.

As Mr. Anderson opened the door a short, thick-set man sprang at him and dealt him a heavy blow in the face. Two other men rushed into the hallway and threw him down. By this time Mrs. Anderson, who heard the noise, hurried into the hallway and saw the men bending over her husband.

When the three intruders saw Mrs. Anderson they drew three revolvers and threatened to shoot if she made a noise. Then at the point of the revolver the men tied the Andersons hands and foot and placed gags in their mouths.

Leaving the couple in the hallway, the burglars ransacked the house from top to bottom. They found some silverware and jewelry, but no money, although they tore down pictures and paintings from the walls in the search.

After the search the burglars came back to the Andersons, and, releasing them for a few minutes, demanded that Mr. Anderson open a safe that stood in the hallway. The burglars discovered that the safe was open and empty. Then they demanded that Mrs. Anderson write her check, payable to James Leonard, for $20. Mrs. Anderson said she had only $10 in the bank, and she was compelled to sign a check for that amount.

The couple were rebound and carried to a bedroom upstairs, where they were left. Mrs. Anderson succeeded in freeing herself after an hour's work and cut the cords that bound her husband. The check for $10, it was learned, was afterwards cashed by an Asbury Park clothing merchant.

Butler Statue Bill Killed.

Boston, March 28.—A proposition to erect a statue of General Benjamin Butler, former governor of Massachusetts, received a setback in the legislature. The ways and means committee of the senate reported "ought not to pass" on the bill appropriating $25,000 for a statue of the general.

Will Enforce Betting Laws.

Richmond, Va., March 28.—Governor Mann announced that he would not permit any violations of the Virginia anti-betting laws at the Jamestown Jockey club's spring meeting, which opens April 3. This is regarded as a heavy, if not a fatal, blow at the meeting.

While they may not be able to analyze the philosophy of it, it is remarkable at how early an age little children seem to acquire a sense and appreciation of what is right, just and fair. Many a parent ignores this faculty in the early years, only to wake up later to a realization of the fact that both the respect and confidence of the child have been forfeited.

The jungle fowl of India, supposed to be a distant cousin of our modern breeds of domestic fowls, follows out her natural instinct and lays a clutch or two of eggs a year, as many at one time as she can effectively cover and incubate. It is because of this natural habit of their early ancestors that the modern flock of hens incude under average conditions to produce 60 rather than 200 eggs in a year.

Mrs Edward A. Trostle, 128 York St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills two years ago and I now take pleasure in confirming that statement. A member of my family complained a great deal of pains through the small of the back and always felt tired and worn out. Doan's Kidney Pills were doing such good work in similar cases, that we decided to try them and a supply was procured at the People's Drug Store. Their use brought relief and made a marked improvement in every way. We are firm believers in the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills and recommend them to anyone afflicted with kidney complaint".

AUTHORITIES ARE BLAMED FOR FIRE

State and City Officials Try to Shift Responsibility.

SMOKER STARTED BLAZE

Fire Marshal Says Match or Cigarettes Caused Fire in Factory That Cost 141 Lives.

New York, March 23.—Responsibility for conditions that were directly responsible for the factory fire in Washington place on Saturday, in which 143 persons lost their lives, is placed, by general consent, upon "the authorities" for not requiring more fire escapes, but whether the state or city authorities are to blame is a question that evidently will be bitterly disputed.

The first formal investigation into the fire in the Asche building, begun by Fire Marshal Beers at fire headquarters, brought out pretty clearly the place of the fire's origin and also served to show how a fire drill might have prevented the loss of life which occurred.

From Samuel Bernstein, the general manager, and Louis Brown, a machinist, both on the eighth floor, it was brought out that the fire originated in a lot of clippings from the shirtwaist material near a cutting table on the east side of the building, next to the second window from the elevators.

As the result of an alleged confession by the girl, Jeannette McGrath, colored, the tramp, William Richardson, has been released by Squire Wilson, of Mont Clare, and the girl arrested, charged with arson.

The girl, who is about thirteen years of age, was a member of the household of Rev. Barnes, the pastor, for several months, being taken from a home in Philadelphia.

MORSE MUST STAY BEHIND THE BARS

No Pardon or Parole For Him or Walsh.

Washington, March 28.—From sources close to the president it was learned that the pardon appeals of the bankers, Charles W. Morse, of New York, and John R. Walsh, of Chicago, undoubtedly will be denied.

It is stated that the attorney general's recommendation in both cases is adverse and that the president will follow its findings.

Various reports as to the recommendations of the attorney general have been current, and two weeks ago it was rumored that Morse was to be pardoned.

This report was without foundation, for even friends of the banker had not expected anything better than a commutation.

It is said that the president will even deny a commutation.

Reports that Mr. Morse is in a critical condition in the Atlanta penitentiary are without foundation, according to an unofficial statement by the department of justice.

SINGS TO SPARE MOTHER

Dying Man Tried to Prevent Aged Parent From Being Shocked.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 28.—Fatally injured, but singing at the top of his voice to prevent his aged mother from being shocked by his terrible condition, John Grady, of Nanticoke, was taken to his home to die.

While repairing some wires a current of 4000 volts was accidentally turned into the wires. Grady had both arms burned off near the elbow and one leg burned to the bone. As he was being carried into his home he sang "Top o' the Mornin'," a favorite song of his aged mother, and called to her cheerfully that he had been slightly burned. He died a few hours later.

One of the elevator men testified that on his last trip he reached the ninth floor and called for someone to get in his car, but nobody responded.

Mr. Blanck testified that on the eighth floor about 200 were employed, on the ninth 300 to 350, and on the tenth about 200. About 80 per cent were foreigners.

Powder Manufacturer a Suicide.

York, Pa., March 28.—James Johnson, seventy years old, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Esther Wolf. Despondency is given as the cause. At one time he was a wealthy powder manufacturer and the mill was sold to the DuPonts, when the place was closed.

Farmer Bitten by Mad Hog.

West Chester, Pa., March 28.—James Eyrick, a well known farmer of Sudsburyville, was bitten by a mad hog and has gone to the Pasteur Institute for treatment. The hog was sick, and when Eyrick went to give it medicine the animal snapped his hand. Veterinarians declare the hog was suffering from hydrophobia.

Aldrich Plan Approved.

J. C. STRAWBRIDGE DEAD

Prominent Philadelphia Merchant Dies in the South.

Philadelphia, March 28.—Justus C. Strawbridge, one of the founders of the firm of Strawbridge & Clothier, died at his winter home, "Shateep," near Thomasville, Ga.

He retired from active participation in the affairs of the Strawbridge & Clothier firm about ten years ago, turning his interests over to three of his sons, Frederick H., Robert E. and Francis R., all of whom are now connected with the store.

Edward R., the oldest son, died about eight years ago. One other son, William J., survives, as does his widow, who was Miss Abbie H. Allen, of Cincinnati.

Justus C. Strawbridge will always be remembered as one of the greatest merchants Philadelphia has produced. Starting in a modest manner at Eighth and Market streets, with Mr. Isaac H. Clothier in July, 1862, at the end of twenty years the firm had a country-wide reputation as one of the largest, if not the largest, dry goods establishments in the United States.

ACCUSE GIRL OF ARSON

Domestic Arrested on Charge of Firing Employer's Barn.

Phoenixville, Pa., March 28.—That the burning of the barn on the property of St. Paul's Episcopal church, at Oaks, was not the work of the tramp who had been accused, but possibly that of a domestic, is the latest development in the case.

As the result of an alleged confession by the girl, Jeannette McGrath, colored, the tramp, William Richardson, has been released by Squire Wilson, of Mont Clare, and the girl arrested, charged with arson.

The girl, who is about thirteen years of age, was a member of the household of Rev. Barnes, the pastor, for several months, being taken from a home in Philadelphia.

RECORD YOUR DEEDS

By an Act of Assembly of 1893, "All Deeds and Conveyances shall be recorded within ninety days after their execution, or shall be adjudged fraudulent and void against subsequent purchasers."

Also the Act of Assembly of 1909, prescribes a short form of Deeds, and "again requires the recording to make them valid."

It is also a great protection against loss or deed being burned by having them recorded, and costs but a small sum compared to getting new deed.

Bring or send them into the Recorder's office, and in a few days they will be returned to you.

PLANS FOR GLADFELTER HOME

William L. Gladfelter, the Spring Grove manufacturer, will not become a resident of York. He is now planning to build a palatial residence near Spring Grove. Architect J. A. Dempwolf, York, has been engaged to design Mr. Gladfelter's new home, which will be situated on a hilltop overlooking the York valley. Mr. Gladfelter has in view two sites, but has not yet made a choice. Engineers and a landscape gardener are at present working out the advantages of both locations. Architect Dempwolf stated that he had not yet started drafting the plans and that this would not be done until Mr. Gladfelter had given the matter further consideration.

The report became current recently that Mr. Gladfelter would move to York, because of his business interests there. Much of his time is spent in York, but his family traditions are so intimately involved with the progress of Spring Grove that he chooses to remain there if for no other reason. It is said that he is arranging to make an extended tour through Europe with his family this summer.

DON'T SAY YOU'RE OLD

You only feel old. Digestive organs are weak—don't assimilate food as they used to.

Other organs act more slowly and less effectively.

Blood is thin and sluggish.

Renewal of strength does not equal the wear and tear of your system.

That's what makes you feel old.

Nothing in the world will tone up and invigorate those weak, backsiding organs, make rich blood and create strength so quickly as Vinol.

Vinol is not a secret nostrum, simply the medicinal elements of the cod's livers, with the useless nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron added. Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not make you stronger, feel younger and give you an added interest in life. People's Drug Store, C. Wm. Hop Shoots as a Vegetable. In the spring, when the hop plant begins to throw up shoots, it is customary in England to thin out and throw away the shoots, leaving only two or three to each plant. In some continental countries, however, these hop shoots are used as a vegetable, being gathered when from four to five inches long and boiled and eaten like asparagus.
